ELECTRIC LIGHTS ON FIRST FAIR-DAY NIGHT

To Lay Cornerstone New Masonic Temple Tomorrow == Friday

High Officers Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania to Officiate at Ceremony; Quiet but Dignified Program Prepared; Parade From Lodge Room to Temple a Feature.

In connection with the erection of Free and Accepted Masons of Church streets, announcement is made that the corner stone will be laid Friday, August 18, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, by Abraham M. Beiler, Right Worshipful Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of Pennsylvania.

The full Masonic ceremonial used for laying the corner stone for Masonic halls and which is prescribed by Masonic law, will be used on this occasion. The Right Worshipful Grand Master will be assisted by other officers of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania, notably, Samuel K. Goodyear, Right Worshipful Deputy Grand Master; J. Willison Smith, Right Worshipful Junior Grand Warden, and William B. Joslyn, Grand Tyler.

J. Warren Radcliffe, secretary to the grand master, will take part in the ceremonies, also other members of the Grand Lodge.

The corner stone is a selected native stone and will be placed at the northeast corner of the edifice. Inscriptions on the two faces of the stone read:

McKEAN LODGE, No. 388,
F. & A. M.
Chartered March 29, 1867, A. D.—A. L. 5867. Aug. 18, 1922, A. D.—A. L. 5922.

The corner stone will contain a copper box in which will be deposited certain Masonic records.

The Masonic procession will be formed at the lodge room of McKean Lodge No. 388, F. & A. M. under the order of the grand marshal and proceed to the site of the temple.

Corner stones of libraries, hospitals and public buildings of other nature as well as corner stones of churches are laid from time to time by grand masters of the Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of Pennsylvania and with ceremonies quite similar to the ceremony which will be used on this occasion. Thus the ceremony becomes one of general public interest, and all are invited to this ceremony.

Right Worshipful Grand Master Beiler and his distinguished party will arrive from Philadelphia at 10 o'clock on Friday morning and will return that evening.

T. W. CAMP RE-ELECTED PRESIDENT OF NATIONAL GLASS MANUFACTURERS.

Smethport was placed more distinctly on the map last Saturday when the National Association of Window Glass Manufacturers, in convention assembled at Cedar Point, Ohio, re-elected our fellow townsman, T. W. Camp, president, in fitting recognition of his excellent record as chief executive of that body.

With the election of officers the glass manufacturers concluded their twelfth annual convention. J. R. Johnston of Pittsburgh, was re-elected secretary of the association.

Following adjournment a number of the officers left for Cleveland where, at the Hotel Statler, a preliminary conference on the question of the wage scale for the ensuing year, was held. It is said that although they expect to insist upon a wage more in keeping with the times, the manufacturers believe that an early agreement will be reached and that plants closed for the summer will be reopened on time.

EVERYTHING IN READINESS FOR McKEAN COUNTY FAIR SET FOR SEPTEMBER 12-15

With improved buildings for exhibits, and grounds in spick and span condition the McKean County Fair association is in readiness for the big Fair dated for September 12, 13, 14 and 15.

Examination of the Premium List for 1922, just off the press, reveals an offer of five thousand dollars in premiums alone. Potatoes, apples, pears, plums, garden vegetables. It seems that everything has been included in the premium list.

Three dollars is offered for the best peck of disease-free seed potatoes; $2 for the best peck of apples, pears or plums, and $5 for the best display of garden vegetables. In fact the officers of the association have so arranged affairs that it would seem no one would have grounds to say "We have better things at home." You have heard that statement, no doubt, and didn't you feel like saying: "Well, if you have better things at home, why didn't you bring 'em?"

Commenting on this very condition, which seems to prevail throughout the state, he National Stockman and Farmer says: "It is astounding how many folks have better stock and products at home than they can find at the Fair. But most of these fellows won't bring it next time or any other time, for they have good reasons for leaving it at home."

There cannot be a good Fair without a large farm exhibit. It is the farmers who make the Fair.

The Premium List contains 137 advertisements. These come from every town of any size in McKean county. Each advertisement costs from $3 to $15. Nearly every person approached took an ad. This indicates that the people are behind the Fair, and better still, that it is a county Fair.

On the entry blank the following sentence appears, which should appeal to every person having pride in the county we live in. It reads: "Make an entry and be a Booster."

If you haven't received a Premium List make application for a copy at once. In it you will find the events in detail, from exhibits to races. And speaking of races, there will be some of the very best races during Fair-days that McKean county ever has witnessed. So you'd better make up your mind to attend—that is, if you really enjoy a first-class exhibition.

AGED SMETHPORT CITIZEN SUFFERS FRACTURED SKULL WHEN THROWN FROM TRUCK

Thrown violently from a Ford truck on the Smethport—Kasson road last Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock, Robert Rice aged 65 years, well known resident of Smethport, suffered a fractured skull and other injuries from which he died five hours later.

The unfortunate man, with his son, Frederick, was engaged in transporting forms for the state road at the time of the accident, and while hurrying to make a delivery, the truck skidded when it struck a sharp angle of the road near the County Home, throwing Mr. Rice out backward, his head striking the roadbed with force sufficient to fracture his skull.

Mr. Blivin, who resides almost opposite the County Home, witnessed the accident and rushed to the assistance of the fallen man immediately. With the aid of Frederick Rice, he was carried into the Blivin home, where medical aid was summoned. An examination, however, revealed that the unfortunate man's condition was hopeless. Five hours later he passed away in the presence of his wife and three children.

The remains were conveyed to the Rice home in the west end of town Saturday evening, from which funeral services were conducted Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. Arthur Gregson of the Methodist Episcopal church, officiating. Interment was made in the Farmers Valley cemetery.

A wife and three children mourn the loss of a kind and indulgent husband and father. The children are: William Rice of Eldred, Mrs. May Roundsville of Farmers Valley, and Frederick Rice of the home.

Mr. Rice had been a resident of Smethport for three years, coming here from Stilltown. He was a native of the Coryville neighborhood, and enjoyed a wide acquaintance throughout this section. Everyone who knew him respected him. To the sorrowing widow and children the heartfelt sympathy of a host of friends is extended.

FROM EDITOR TO READER

The McKean County Miner is coming along fine, thank ou. It is realizing its possibilities as perhaps never before. Thankful for the many kind expressions of commendation that have poured into the office during the past several weeks, The Miner has bestirred itself to greater endeavor to give the people of McKean county the kind of newspaper they deserve. New features have been introduced and others are on the way.

One month ago The Miner procured the exclusive publication of the Kettner Cartoon Service, and last week witnessed the introduction of a Dairy Department for the benefit of dairymen and farmers, together with "Bill Sam's Dictionary," a genuine comic for all readers. If you follow "Bill Sam" as many readers do—and the way they follow him is to clip his observations and paste them in a scrap-book—you will discover that if the definitions fail to agree in some cases with Webster or Funk & Wagnalls, the matter will be taken as evidence that the author has studied the subject more thoroughly than the authorities mentioned and has been able to extract meanings which they never heard. Had they possessed the assistance of our one so observational as "Bill Sam," their books would be more entertaining and more widely read.

Last week "Bill Sam" defined a Comet as "a planetary tadpole in the Sea of Space." This week he deals with "Natives" and then proceeds to tell you that "a native is the old-time backwoodsman who was here when you came, and who will still be here when you leave." Next week he deals with the word, "Payable," defining it in both philosophical and humorous fashion.

Boys and girls lovers of "Bill Sams Dictionary" all over the United States find delight in clipping his definitions and reading them during the social hour at school, at the regular literary meeting or at any social gathering. With a desire to encourage the boys and girls in this respect, The Miner herewith agrees to make appropriate mention of those having the largest scrap-books of "Bill Sam's" definitions at the end of the year. All that is necessary is to clip and preserve them and make report to The Miner by January 3d, 1923.

But keep your eyes open for other attractive features. In the meantime see to it that you join he ever-increasing army of subscribers to The McKean County Miner.

Streets Will Blaze Welcome to Comers Tuesday Eve. Sep. 12

Public Service Officials and Electric Men Rush Work to Completion; West Main Street Paving Finished Tuesday and Equipment Moved Into Mechanic Street.

Borough Manager Backus, the public service committee of council and a large force of men are making a strenuous endeavor to rush the work of stringing electric cable and placing light standards so that visitors to the county fair may see what Smethport looks like under electric light.

It is the fond hope of the borough manager and city fathers to have everything ready for the big flash in the evening of the first day of the fair.

Since the arrival of the cable-stringing crew last week the work of laying the conduits, moulding the bases for street light standards and making connections has been conducted under high pressure, yet with clock like precision. To date not one false movement has been made. Therefore, weather permitting and with no unforseen complications, those in charge are banking on the realization of their expectations.

And while all this great work has been going on in electrical lines, a similar feat of strenuous endeavor marked by exceptional ability, has been witnessed in the completion of the West Main street paving improvement and the beginning of the improvement of Mechanic street.

Tuesday at the noon hour the last mixture of concrete was laid in West Main street and leaving a force of men to put on the finishing touches, Contractor W. C. Guncheon transported his men and machinery to Mechanic street.

"Given good weather we'll have the Mechanic street job finished in record time; probably within a week," was Mr. Guncheon's response to a query, which, by the way, materially shortens his original expectation of completion by September 15.

Citizens generally were agreeably surprised when they learned of the completion of West Main street, Tuesday, but Contractor Guncheon avers that it would have been completed several days earlier if labor and weather conditions had been better.

The West Main street job has been pronounced one of the best pavements ever laid in this section by experts who have viewed the work. Not only has the best material obtainable been used, but the pavement proper rests upon a substantial base of reinforced concrete that bids fair to endure for ages.

Thus with the rush in the work of paving and and electrical improvements, Smethport has presented an exceptionally busy scene the past week. Hundreds of curious who have never witnessed installing of a city electric system have poured into town and watched every move of the workmen.

The trunk line or high tension wires from Ridgway, the source of supply for the local electric current, has reached a point one and one-half miles from town, and barring accident ten days hence will witness its connection with the local supply station in Water street.

BOY PINCHED BY SHERIFF SAYS AUTO BANDIT GANG WORKS LOCAL TERRITORY

An organized gang of auto thieves with established "fences" in various cities, is operating in Northwestern Pennsylvania and Southwestern New York for the disposition of stolen cars, was the story told by Clinton Arthurs, 19 years of age, of Cuba, New York, who, with his brother, Walter, aged 17, were arrested by Sheriff Robinson in Smethport last Wednesday for the alleged theft of a touring car belonging to Edward Burlingame of Scott's Corners, June 3 last.

While the Arthur brothers protested their innocence to Sheriff Robinson, claiming they were the victims of an unscrupulous traveling salesman, the story took on a different color following their surrender to the Olean police. According to Clinton Arthurs, who admitted taking the car belonging to Burlingame, he was approached in Smethport by an alleged traveling salesman for auto oils, who wanted to purchase the stolen car. The stranger, he said, told him of a ring of auto thieves, with disposal plants in Buffalo and Brooklyn. He also stated that the Buffalo place was out of business temporarily, owing to arrests of the proprietors, but that the ring would open another place in Buffalo within a week. This was several weeks ago. Arthurs freely confessed to his own act, although at first he denied it. Both boys waived examination and were held for the grand jury session preliminary to the September term of court.

The lads had been working for a time on a state road job near Smethport, spending the days as laborers and the nights as gay youths with girl companions, joy riding the country lanes. Following a crash with another car, a lo-

NEWS OF THE SECTION
and Exchange Clippings

Kane—R. L. Lair had been missing a lot of chickens and traps seemed to be of no avail. Thursday however, Lair's efforts were rewarded by the capture of a big owl. The owl seemed exceedingly well nourished following the disappearance of 60 chickens which have gone to satisfy its appetite. The bird is now exhibited in the window of the Kane Supply Co.

Port Allegany—Raymond Rice, who runs the dinky engine on the construction below Eldred, was injured Saturday, when a loose bolt from some part of the machine flew in his direction, striking him on the side of the neck. A vein was opened, and but for the prompt and efficient "first aid" rendered by Mrs. Coyle, he would probably bled to death before the doctor arrived. As it was she found the place where the blood vessel was punctured and by pressure held the blood in check until surgical aid was given.

Port Allegany—Miss Marie A. Davis a former resident of Port Allegany, died at her home in Fort Smith, Ark., July 31. She was a violinist of note and while here took a prominent part in the musical activities of the borough.

Port Allegany—On account of the Coryville picnic, to be held Saturday August 19, the regular meeting of Liberty Grange has been postponed until September 2. Everybody in this section is making plans to attend the Coryville picnic.

Port Allegany—Leon Clark, carpenter, whose home is in Liberty, fractured his skull in a fall of 30 feet from the roof of the chemical factory at Liberty, Friday. He was rushed to the McGranor hospital here. Chances for his recovery are said to be good. Clark lost his balance on the roof and, falling into a pit, struck his chin with such force as to throw his head backward, fracturing his skull. He has a wife and 3 children.

Johnsonburg—Robert J. Hoh, 11, one of Johnsonburg's best known citizens, died Wednesday noon after a long illness. Funeral Monday; interment in Wardvale cemetery.

Mt. Jewett—The Norwich Oil and Gas company completed the work of clearing out and shooting its No. 1 well on the Rife lease in Norwich township and were fortunate in increasing the production of the old well to a settled flow of about 250,000 cubic feet of gas a day. This is the third good well completed since January 8.

Eldred—It is expected that the road at the Chrisman crossing will be opened for traffic about the 19th or 20th. A new railway crossing will have to be provided, however.

Bradford—It is announced by city authorities that no artists must carry both their driver's car and automobile certificates with them hereafter; according to the state statutes. Special officer Hallock has been instructed to ask motorists to display these cards. This is the only way in which a check can be kept on stolen cars, drivers operating without licenses and other violations.

Eldred—Because of increasing business, C. Prouty & Co., have found it necessary to enlarge their temporary plant, erected after the fire which destroyed the original plant. An addition is being constructed adjacent to the P. R. R. tracks, which will house the big automatic hammer and other equipment required since damaged by fire.

Salamanca—One killed and four injured, two seriously, is the toll of a grade crossing accident near Little Valley, on the State road, at 9 o'clock Thursday night, when an auto was hit by an Erie train. The five occupants of the car all of 150 Jefferson street, Buffalo, were taken to the local hospital.

Cory—Charles L. Reed of Cory was struck and killed by a trolley car at East Columbus, last Wednesday night. His body was found some hours later by a party of motorists.

Berwick—Four deer were seen grazing with cows in the field of John Fenstermacher and Thomas Meisell, two miles above here, Sunday. They were within 500 feet of a much-traveled road, and scores of automobile parties stopped to see them. There were two deer on each farm. They followed the cows to the barn, but did not enter. When the cows were shut up for the night the deer disappeared. All were nearly full grown.

ROAD WALKERS ADVISED TO KEEP TO LEFT.

Some good advice has recently been issued by the American Automobile association to people who walk along the country roads, and in the streets at night, which, if heeded, might be the means of lessening the number of auto accidents. This advice suggests that when walking roads or streets at night, pedestrains should keep to the left side of the road, facing on coming traffic. Courtesy on the part of the auto drivers demands driver to see a pedestrain walking the use of dimmed lights at night, and this makes it difficult for the along the edge of the road in the same direction, and the difficulty is increased if the pedestrain has on dark clothing; the result being that the driver is practically on top of the pedestrain before the latter becomes visible. Walking on the left hand side of the road is just as good for the pedestrain and enables him to see the approaching automobile in time to step aside, also preventing him from being struck from the rear.

PENN STATE SELECTS McKEAN COUNTY GIRL TO PERFORM HONOR JOB.

Another honor has come to McKean county.

Wednesday the local Farm Bureau received notice from Penn State college that Miss Anna McCarey of Turtle Point had been selected by the college officials as the proper person to lift the first shovelful of dirt for the excavation for the new $200,000 hospital to be built from funds raised by Pennsylvania potato growers.

This honor has come to McKean county solely for the reason that it was Pomona Grange of McKean county that donated the first money from any source for the new building.

The exercises having to do with starting the building, in which Miss McCarey is to participate, will take place Friday, August 25, under the direction of Dr. John M. Thomas, president of Penn State. Some 6,000 to 8,000 potato growers are expected to be present. The delegation from McKean county includes F. L. Johnson, Kane; Walter Scott and George Crooks, Ceres; Mr. Johnson, Bell's Run; Anna McCarey and P. S. Crossman.

Eighty-eight of the relatives were present, including the eight surviving direct descendents. A meeting was called and an annual picnic decided upon. The following officers were elected: C. L. Stark, president; Maud Gallup, secretary; Carrie McGowan, treasurer; Mary Abby, Freda Curtis and Tina McGinley executive committee.

Relatives were present from Akron, O., Atlmar, Olean and Quaker Bridge, N. Y., Bradford, Smethport, Port Allegany, Roulette, Derrick City, Hamlin, Betula and Simpson, Pa.

The picnic next year will be held at the residence of D. A. Davis of Simpson, Pa., the third Sunday in July.

PORT ALLEGANY MAN SUFFERS LOSS OF ARM IN RAILWAY ACCIDENT.

Burel Allison, 33 years of age, a Pennsylvania railroad brakeman, well known in Smethport, lost his right arm near the elbow in an accident Sunday night.

Mr. Allison fell from the top of a car of his train in the railway yard of Olean. The wheels passed over the arm, crushing it almost to pulp. The injured man was discovered almost immediately after the accident and taken to the Olean General hospital, where the arm was amputated. It is thought that he will recover.

MT. JEWETT BUS LINE IS GIVEN TURN DOWN.

E. C. Cleveland of Mt. Jewett, who was confident that the state public service commission had acted favorably on his request for a bus line between Smethport and Mt. Jewett, met with keen disappointment Monday, when, in answer to his query, the secretary of the commission informed him that his request had been denied rather than granted. The influence of the railways operating between the points named is alleged to be responsible but Mr. Cleveland promises to make another try for the privilege at an early date.

Leona Hogarth Doyle visited friends in Bradford the first of the week.

The preliminary step toward the organization of a Welfare association composed of the postmasters, clerks and rural carriers of McKean county, was taken Tuesday evening when representatives of the postoffices of Smethport, Bradford, Port Allegany, Rixford and Roulette assembled in Smethport. A delicious chicken dinner served by the ladies of the Priscilla club of the M. E. church, featured the occasion. 5 GENERATIONS APPEAR GALLUP FAMILY REUNION HELD TUESDAY AUG. 5th.

Tuesday, August 15, the Gallup family assembled at Gulco park, to hold their annual reunion and picnic.

The day was fine and the attendance nearly record-breaking as the family responded to the summons so well that 215 members were present, there being representatives from Bradford, Warren, Saybrook, Clarendon, Port Allegany and Woodbury, New Jersey, in addition to the local attendance.

As the cars rolled into the park in rapid succession about 11 a. m. the long tables were found to be already prepared and decorated with flowers for the mid-day meal by the able committee and their helpers, who served a fine dinner promptly at noon, to the large company, in perfect order and without confusion. Later a cafeteria supper was served.

After dinner, the business meeting was called to order by Mr. E. A. Gallup, who requested the assembled company to rise and pay a silent tribute to those whom we sadly miss from our circle.

The treasurer, Frank A. Gallup, and secretary, Carrie G. Fischer, then read their reports of finances and of the previous reunion, which were adopted.

At the ensuing election of officers, Frank A. Gallup was made president, J. B. Oviatt, treasurer, Carrie G. Fischer continued in office as secretary, and A. L. Gallup, J. B. Oviatt, and Edward Gallup continued in office as trustees.

ROAD BOOSTER IRRITATED OVER SENSELESS AGITATION DECLARE PLANS HOLD GOOD

Good road boosters of McKean county, irritated over the amount of dust kicked up over nothing recently, placed themselves on record this week as radically opposed to any movement calculated to cause misunderstanding of a heretofore plain good roads program with the result of giving rise to suspicion in some minds that funds were about to be diverted from sources for which they were intended.

Attempts to place Bradford in an unenviable light also were condemned by McKean county boosters and steps taken to have those responsible for the hue and cry of the past few weeks explain the whys and wherefores of their attitude.

Resolved into the concrete, McKean county good roads boosters are a unit for the good roads plan as originally outlined, and this, as every one conversant with the situation knows, contemplates the the completion of all primary roads ere consideration is given other highways.

Interviews with an even one dozen men foremost in the good roads movement of McKean county, the past week, revealed a unanimity of sentiment concerning which there is no mistake. They are authority for the statement that all agitation in Bradford now, and heretofore as well, is in behalf of the primary routes and that Bradford boosters have no idea of departing from the program originally agreed upon.

Concerning a get-together meeting to arrange a plan of action, as proposed by those who seem to have a grievance, concerning which no one knows, local boosters aver that they are ready for a meeting and that when it is held they intend to find out what all the disturbance of the past few weeks means. Furthermore, they say that in the event of another meeting it would be little short of suicide for any one to attempt to alter or abridge the original good roads plans.

Boosters of Smethport, whose acquaintance with the situation connot be questioned, state that Smethport and Bradford are working hand in hand for all roads contemplated and that no sign of dissension ever was evident.

Therefore, if a meeting is held, as proposed, and every good roads advocated is hoping it will be, the real work before the meeting will consist of overcoming the ill effects of a senseless agitation resulting from nothing short of perfervid imagination. Then the good roads will again vote for the program originally agreed upon.

It is said, however, that the agitators, upon learning of the wreck of the good roads boosters, have suddenly changed front and are making strenuous efforts to explain.

CONFIDENCE GIVES WAY WHEN BOLIVAR'S PRIDE TASTES BITTER DEFEAT

Every Bolivar base ball fan who knew how to root, the ladies as well as the men, descended on Smethport last Sunday to witness the game between Bolivar's pride and the Smethport team. When they arrived in town their expressions were of the "you can't beat us" variety, but when they left it was with quite a different cast of countenance.

Yes, Bolivar had a good team all right, and it took 13 long innings for Smethport to show them there was one better on earth—and it was a glorious victory. It was in the eighth inning, with the score standing 4 to 0 in Bolivar's favor that the deed was done. Then it was that the local boys rallied, tied the score and held the Bolivarians down to a row of goose-eggs, up to and including the 13th, when Smethport tallied the winning run, the score showing 5 to 4 in Smethport's favor.

It was a sad day for Bolivar, a glorious day for Smethport. Smethport will play Rixford at Rixford this Sunday.

SCHOOLS OPEN LABOR DAY.

The public schools of Smethport will re-open Monday, September 4—Labor day. This, on the authority of the Board of Education, will dispel all rumors having to do with the dates August 28 and September 5.

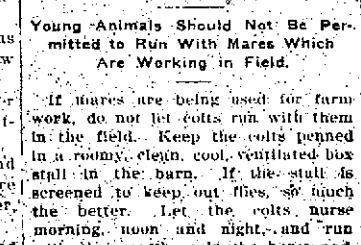
LARGE PRODUCERS EAT MUCH

One of the Important Points Brought Out in Department Bulletin by J. C. McDowell.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Cows that produce milk and butterfat in large quantities have keen appetites and roomy paunches, but they bring in higher incomes over feed cost than the scanty producers, regardless of breed, age, weight, date of freshening, and geographical location. This is one of the important points brought out in Department Bulletin 1069, Relation of Production to Income from Dairy Cows, by J. C. McDowell, just published by the United States Department of Agriculture.

The facts in the bulletin are based on a study of data supplied by 96 cow-testing associations in various parts of the country. Because of better feeding, better breeding, and better care, cows owned by association members are much better than the general run of cows. The estimated production per head of all the dairy cows in the United States is approximately 4,000 pounds of milk and 160 pounds of butterfat a year. The association cows are about 50 per cent better, producing an average of 6,077 pounds of milk and 248 pounds of butterfat.



This Cow Ate More Than 11 Tons of Grain, Hay, Silage and Beet Pulp in a Year—She Made in That Time More Than a Half Ton of Butter and More Than 10 Tons of Milk.

According to figures based on 18,014 yearly individual cow records, as butterfat production increased from 100 to 400 pounds there was a regular increase of about $16 in income over feed cost per cow for every 50 pounds of increase in average production of butterfat. As the yield of butterfat increased from 100 pounds to 396 pounds, the returns above the dollar expended for feed increased from 35 cents to $1.52.

The cows having an average milk production of 3,250 pounds showed an average income of $32.25 over the cost of feed, while those producing 13,250 pounds showed an average income of $218.19 over feed cost. The cows in the latter group produced about four times as much as those in the other group, and their average income over cost of feed was nearly seven times as great. The increase in income above feed cost grew regularly with the increase in production.

A study of these records shows that it pays best to put feed into big producers, even though they are big eaters, says the department.

A copy of the bulletin may be obtained upon application to the Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

KEEP COLTS IN ROOMY STALL

Young Animals Should Not Be Permitted to Run With Mares Which Are Working in Field.

If mares are being used for farm work, do not let colts run with them in the field. Keep the colts penned in a roomy, clean, cool, ventilated box stall in the barn. If the stall is screened to keep out flies, so much the better. Let the colts nurse morning, noon and night, and run with their mothers in the horse paddock at night.

CARE FOR FARM WOODLANDS

Keep Stock Out as They Injure Young Seedlings and Trees—Forest Supplies Timber.

Take care of the farm woodlands, advises the forest service of the United States Department of Agriculture. Keep the stock out—they injure the young seedlings and trees. Woodland and pasture land are most profitable when managed separately. The home forest, if well cared for, will supply all the timber which the farm needs for buildings, fences and fuel.

Animal Food Required.

Animal food is required for the best growth in chicks, as well as for large egg yields. Where bugs and worms are scarce, it is well to feed meat scrap, fish scrap or any form of milk products.

Bad Time to Buy Cows.

Usually it is a bad time to buy milk cows any time during the middle of the summer unless they are dry and due to freshen some time during the fall or early winter.

Realizing Value of Silo.

Dairy farmers are realizing more and more the place of the silo in the successful feeding of dairy cows.

Plan to Build Silo.

Plan to build the silo and remodel dairy barn or build new one.

CANDY MANNERS

THERE is really a very nicely balanced table of etiquette concerning candy. Of course, the keynote of it is not to be greedy and not to be selfish—that is, not to be greedy if the candy belongs to somebody else, and not to be selfish if it is yours.

That's the whole case in a nutshell.

So if somebody opens a box of candy in your presence and passes it to you, you naturally take but one piece. If the possessor of the candy places it open on a table and says help yourself, you help yourself very charily. One or two pieces more are all that you really would take without further invitation. For you to eat half the contents of the box, as some persons do, would be the height of rudeness.

And, on the other side of the question, if you have a box of candy you should generously open it and pass it to your guests. Candy is a passing joy, anyway, and if you keep the box unopened and eat it all yourself, you will quite likely suffer a headache for your selfish indiscretion.

If a young man brings a young woman a box of candy when he calls on her, it is customary for her to open it immediately, and pass it to him—and to anybody else who may be in the room.

WHY ? IS 13 CONSIDERED UNLUCKY

THE superstition which surrounds the number "13" almost certainly dates back to the "Last Supper" where Christ and His apostles made thirteen around the table. The same idea, in pagan circles, is to be found in the Norse story of Loki's banquet with the gods in Valhalla where Baldur, who was the thirteenth at the table, was sentenced to die.

The superstition regarding the number is widespread and probably more prevalent than any other similar belief. In Turkey the number is never mentioned unless it is absolutely necessary. The Italians never use it in making up the numbers of their lotteries and the thirteenth card in one of their games of chance bears the grim figure of death. In fact the belief that, if there are thirteen at a table one of the guests is certain to die within the year—the connection with Judas and the Last Supper is here clearly recognizable—is so well established in Paris that it has given rise to a peculiar profession, that of pique-assiette. These "diners in other people's houses" are known as the "fourteenth," it being part of their business to break the spell attendant upon having only thirteen at the table.
